

---

Changing the Finance System to enable the Transition to a Sustainable Economy

May 14-15, 2013

Agenda

---

Tuesday, May 14

- 14.00      Welcome & introductions
Chris Hewett, The Finance Innovation Lab (Moderator for Day 1)
André Martinuzzi, Head, RIMAS WU Vienna

Session 1 – How does the financial system steer capital and credit in the real economy

- 14.15      Professor Tim Jackson, University of Surrey & RESPONDER
Associate Professor Dirk Bezemer, University of Groningen/INET
Stanislas Dupré, Executive Director, 2 Degree Investing Initiative
- 15.20      Mapping Sustainable Finance
Chris Hewett, The Finance Innovation Lab
- 15.30      Coffee
- 16.00      Introduction into system mapping: why RESPONDER uses system maps to explore finance issues
Michal Sedlacko, RIMAS WU Vienna
- 16.15      Mapping Sustainable Finance I: Exploring Key Issues in Stimulating Investment into Technology and Infrastructure

Working with finance system map created from the May 2012 workshop in London, which set out how finance and sustainable economy are related, three groups will identify the most important parts of this system in relation to stimulating investment in technology and infrastructure for: energy supply; sustainable mobility; and reducing energy demand

Moderators: Michal Sedlacko, André Martinuzzi (RIMAS WU Vienna) and Frieder Rubik (Institute for Ecological Economy Research)
- 17.30      Drinks reception
- 18.30      Dinner for all participants

Wednesday, May 15

8.45 Coffee

9.15 Welcome back & introduction to day 2
Richard Spencer, The Finance Innovation Lab (moderator for morning)

Session 2 – Panel of practitioners in sustainable finance

9.30 Peter Blom, CEO Triodos Bank and Chair, Global Alliance of Banking on Values
Klaus Krummich, Head of Academic Sponsorship, German Sparkassen Association
Anders Nordheim, Head of Research, EuroSIF
Nicolas Dabbaghian, President, SPEAR

11.00 Coffee

11.30 Mapping Sustainable Finance II: Identifying the Policy & Research Priorities
Using material created in Day 1, three groups will discuss the implications in terms changes to finance policy and research questions. In particular the groups will draw up lists of policy interventions and research needs to encourage bank lending, long term investment and stimulate alternative finance which could steer more capital towards the needs of a sustainable economy.

Moderators: Michal Sedlacko, André Martinuzzi (RIMAS WU Vienna) and Frieder Rubik (Institute for Ecological Economy Research)

13.00 Lunch

14.00 Mapping the next steps (Moderator: Chris Hewett, The Finance Lab)
Plenary feedback session, where the policy ideas and research questions generated in the pre-lunch breakouts will be reported to the rest of the participants and combined onto one large map. From this collective mapping exercise, we will also generate some key questions to put to the final panel.

Session 3 – How can European financial regulation support a sustainable economy Moderator: Chris Hewett (The Finance Innovation Lab)

15.00 Phillipe Lamberts MEP (Green Party)
Thierry Philliponnat, Executive Director – Finance Watch

16.30 RESPONDER (project) beyond today
André Martinuzzi (Head, RIMAS, WU Vienna)

17.00 Close